His kind, warm heart, and gentle spirit knew, Had long lived, hoped and fear'd for him alone; His voice their morning music, and his eye The only starlight of their evening sky, Till even the sun of happiness seem'd dim, And life's best joys were sorrows but with him; And when, the burning bullet in his breast, He dropp'd, like summer fruit from off the bough, There was one heart that knew and loved him best-

It was a mother's-and is broken now. Further extracts from Capt. Kenningsen's "Year in Spain." We now select a story of another, but still of an appalling kind; it is of General Rodil, the queen's general at Navarre :-"During his defence of the castle of Callao, in Peru, in which he held out most gallantly, till every thing was knocked to pieces, and the garrison had eaten every cat and rat in the fortress, he was informed that some of his men, worn out by famine and fatigue, had entered into a conspiracy to surrender the place to the enemy, and thus end their misery. Rodil assembled the whole garrison next morning, and harrangued them to this effect :- 'That, having resolved to defend the castle to the last extremity, he had determined to dismiss all those who were either unwilling or unable to support the privations of a siege; and that those who felt inclined to surrender to the enemy, had only to step out of the ranks.' More than a third of the men eagerly pressed forward; they were commanded to lay down their arms and accourrements, and to form in line opposite to those who remained firm. Rodil then ordered the latter to level and fire! He was obeyed; the recreants were butchered without remorse by their comrades on the spot, and Rodil retired, with the assurance that he had now a faithful garrison."

We now give another more horrible recital after the battle of Vittoria, 27th October :-

The New England Crown Glass being purer in color than any other Glass, is preferable for Stores, as it does not tinge the rays of light as they pass through it, and therefore white goods particularly appear to advantage; and it is peculiarly useful for Factories, as some minutes of light may be gained morning and evening, in consequence of the absence of color in this glass. The price of second quality is reduced from the rates heretofore asked.

IF Those who wish to contract for this Glass are requested to specify New England Crown Glass. As much imposition has been practised by dealers in Glass, by deceptive marks on hoxes and other artifices, any purchaser who may apprehend has been imposed upon is invited by letter or personally to apply to the subscriber for any information he may wish to enable him to detect the deception. Orders sent to the madersigned, at Boston or East Cambridge, or to any at the Company's Selling Agents, will be promptly attended to. Persons wishing the appointment of Selling Agent, can apply to the subscriber by letter or rotherwise.

WM. PARMENTER, " The night of the 28th, when after the victory we roads, bordered on each side by a thick brushwood. Two of his prisoners had already made their escape, when he sent to Zumalacarregui to inform him of it, and, that, as he had only thirty men to guard them, he could not answer for his prisoners. "Get cords," said the general. He was answered, that the village had been abandoned, and that they had searched in vain for some. "Then put them to death-passar loss por armas." With this reply the messenger returned; but immediately an aid-de-camp spurred after him to say, that care must be taken that I aralde's division was not alarmed by the firing. The captain, who who was an old Navarrese of Mina's school, on receiving this order, sent for a serjeant and fifteen lancers, and causing his men to fix bayonets, commanded them to charge into the midst of the unfortunate wretches, who were all miserably slaughtered on the spot. The scene is said to have baffled all description; the unfortunate victims were shricking for mercy, and clasping the knees of their destroyers and their horses; several young officers were amongst the slain. We passed the spot where the massacre had been, but I did not hear until the next day all its horrors recited. I have always wished that this page, which tarnishes the glory of that victory, could be blotted from the history of the war; but, in sketching its prominent features, while I feel as the partizan, I have resolved not to swerve from the impartiality of the historian."

He used double tents with straw stuffed between the smaller and greater canvass; by this process, his tents were made endurable, but not comfortable. Madam Scott, then the lady of John Hancock, who resided in the old stone mansion-house, at the head of the Cone.non, informed the writer, several years since, that Percy reviewed his troops, every morning, in all sorts of weather, on the Common which she witnessed from her chamber-window. Earl PERME COPARTNERSHIP heretofore existing as Percy, afterward the doke of Northumberland, was quite a popular young officer until our affairs proceeded to extremities with his country. It is well known, that, on the nineteenth of April, 1775, he covered the retreat to destroy the stores which the provincial congress had collected there. He performed his duty with military skill, and saved Pitcairn and his men from annihilation.

THE TRIUMPH IN VIRGINIA.

The result of the election in the Ancient Dominion is most auspicious to the cause of Democracy. Upon this State the piebald opposition placed all their hopes, and upon it centered all their strength. Their course in Congress, up to the period of the commencement of the election, was intended to influence its result. The slave question was raised, and its discussion prolonged merely to operate upon Virginia-Mr Tyler traversed the State, Mr Tazewell resigned, and Mr Leigh made speeches, in the vain hope of carrying Virginia against the general administration-but the people came to the rescue-asserted their rights-maintained their integrity, and achieved a glorious victory over the combined efforts of their enemies. The Richmond Enquirer of the 13th instant publishes the following as the "Result of the Campaign:"-

Republicans, 77; Whigs, 56; Doubtful, 1. Republican majority in the House of Delegates, 20 at least; (perhaps 22); Republican majority in the Senate, 8; majority in joint vote, 28, at least, and perhaps 30. (Without counting two friends of the Administration, viz; Messrs Cook, of Norfolk county, and Poulson, of Accomack.) This is a larger majority by 4, if not by 6, than we had at the last session. "A meagre majority," indeed, quoth the mean time it is amusing to see some of the wise paragraphs which have been gravely put forth by the Whig editors to break their fall. Pour exemple!

"We learn by the returns of the Virginia elections, that the Whigs are gaining ground in the legislature; but their greatest gain is in numerical strength with the people—there is every reason to believe that they will carry the State in the fall elections."—Augusta Chronicle, 7th May.

"The Virginia Elections are going on, and although it is an exceedingly hard and well contested race, yet we hope that the cause of the people will triumpli in the Old Dominion vs. Van Buren and Gaucusses. Albemarle, the county on which high hopes were built in consequence of its great moral and political influence in the State, has, it is true, gone for the man of magics,' but it is said old Mr Rives' purses so long, so strong, so full, (done) the business—we will underwrite for that—Let Matty alone for getting on the strong side of the rich and powerful. The Richmond Enquirer gives the state of the Polls, from which we discover that the Van Buren ticket is only two votes ahead!—good. As precious a set of rascals as were ever hung, or escaped unhung, have been gathered together at Union Hall, near the Zoological Institute, where they may be seen for a quarter of a dollar. There are rascals there of every caliber from Crowninshield down to Jesse Strang, the Albany murderer, who killed Mr Whipple because he wanted his wife. In the group are figures of F. J. Knapp, parting with his father-J. J. Knapp, bidding adieu to his wife and infant-Gibbs and Wansley, the Pirates, and the Dutch girl, kept and subsequently poisoned by the former, and others of lesser note. There are also in this collection, several other figures not enumerated under the head of rascals, and whose characters enable them to survive the disgrace of being found in bad company.

Dr. Luzenburg, of New Orleans, has discovered, by experiment, that the absence of light prevents pustules and marks in cases of the small pox .-- This is a happy discovery; and doubly so, when the same system being first to spring up, the marks of Earl Percy's camp. er, and second in command, General Cos, and their officers, had been taken prisoners, with the loss of 700 men killed, and 500 taken prisoners. This body formed the largest of two divisions of the Mexicans, the two bodies being divided by the river Brassos. The first accounts are confirmed by subsequent advices, and there seems to be no room to doubt their truth.

From the New Orleans Bulletin of May 3. An express has arrived here via Natchitoches, from Texas, and is confirmed by Gen. Gaines, that Gen. Houston, of Texas, has conquered Santa Anna and his army. Santa Anna himself, and his soldiers all prisoners. The forces of Santa Anna were estimated at ther states that Houston's army destroyed half of the Mexicans, and the loss on his side was 6 killed and 20 wounded.

The saddle of Santa Anna was taken and brought in, and is of a costly order, being estimated as worth ance and oppression. between 6 and 800 dollars, and the express who brought in the news rode on the horse of Santa Anna. From the N. O. Bee, of May 3.

Glorious News .- By the steamboat Levant, which arrived last evening, the accounts are confirmed of Houston's victory over the Mexican army. Having conquered the first division, as elsewhere related, he attacked the second division under Santa Anna himself, the result of which was as hastily communicated in the following circular from the Texian secretary of war to the people of Nacogdoches.

The following official document was issued two days after the battle. A. Houston, who endorses it, is, we believe, a general officer, and brother of the command-

HEAD QUARTERS, ARMY, April 23, 1836. To the People towards Nacogdoches:

We met Santa Anna on the 21st; we attacked him with 600 men; he had 1100 infantry, 2 howitzers-we entirely routed his whole force, killed half of his men, and took the rest prisoners. Santa Anna himself, and all his principal officers are our prisoners. The history of war does not furnish a parallel to the battle. We had 6 killed and 20 wounded. I have not time or I would send on a full report. I will do that in the course of to-morrow. I again call on my fellow citizens to come to the field; let us fall on and conquer the remaining troops and our country is free-turn out at once, there is no excuse now; let us do the work at THOS. J. RUSH, Sec. at War.

I certify the above to be a true copy of the express just received from the Secretary of war, who was himself in the battle. A HOUSTON. To J. R. DUNN.

San Augustine, April 26.

The New Orleans Bee, of the 3d instant, says-

" Since writing the above, we heard it stated as if on good authority, that Gen. Houston held a council of war on the fate of his prisoners : and that Santa Anna and all his officers had been shot; the privates were sent to Matamoras. It was also stated that General Gaines had written a private letter confirmatory of this account; but we did not see it. There can, however, be no doubt that Houston has conquered; and that the Mexican army is prostrated. The day of retribution has at length come; and Texas is free."

The New York Commercial Advertiser publishes the following as a postscript:-

The New York papers furnish us with very interesting accounts of a late exhibition of the deaf and dumb in that city, at which Dr. Howe, and several of his blind pupils were present. The exhibition commenced by an examination of the deaf and dumb, in the different branches of education, during which they evinced the possession of strong mental powers,

Two blind girls and a boy were then introduced by Dr. Howe, with a few brief remarks, explanatory of his system of teaching. The little girls then opened their books, turned to any page, or verse named, and running their fingers over the raised surface of the letters, read andibly and fluently. Questions were then put to suppose, "pleading double."-N. H. The boy translated French fluently, and answered different questions in arithmetic, sooner than could have been done by most of the spectators. Then came music, and when they had finished one of their songs, there was scarcely a dry eye in the house.

But the most interesting part of the exhibition, says with the root .- Portsmouth Journal. the Sun, was an interview between the dumb who had been taught to speak by signs, and the blind to read by the touch. The blind girl held up her hand, the dumb who in an unfortunate squabble cracked the head of her eher ami in Leonard street, is Mary Lamont. The young watched every movement, and turning to their slates, wrote rapidly the words she had been spelling. A deaf girl approached the blind one - she held out her hand and the other feeling of it, examined every letter as it was formed, spelled the words, and read on the fingers of the dumb, as it were in a book, with movable type, and repeated aloud what she read.

Nothing seems to have afforded more general satisfaction

Nothing seems to have afforded more general satisfaction and advantage to society, than having the Hygeian Medicine prescribed and prepared by a regular and practical physician, and one who may at all times be consulted or appealed to, either by post or otherwise, on the subject of its operation and disease. This also is the more appreciated in consequence of the number of different medicines which are daily advertised that the property of the page of Mygring 2 and Mygring. under various pretences in the name of "Hygeian" and "original Hygeian."

The directions which accompany every package of this Domestic Medicine, are exceedingly plain and particular,—the proper dose and man gement of the Pills being carefully given under the head of each disorder separately. Those who keep this medicine by them, especially country families, find that nothing is more economical or better adapted for family use, and being free from mercury or any hurtful property, they may always be resorted to with perfect safety. Neither is it too much to state with strict regard to truth, that thousands are indebted to this medicine for the preservation of life and andebted to this medicine for the preservation of life and

The connection which exists between the organs of digestion and almost all deseases, being the basis of this Domestic Medicine, there is scarcely a disorder incident to human nature in which they are not taken advantageously, but those disorders in which the most remarkable instances of benefit disorders in which the most remarkable instances of benefit and cures have been experienced are the following:—Bilious disorders, Dyspepsia, affections of the head and nervous complaints, with all those various disorders which originate in hot climates or from costive bowels. CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—The subscriber having completed a purchase of the exclusive right of the new and useful improvement in the Cooking Stove called the Improved Premium or Conical, takes this method to caution all persons from infringing upon his right. The stove to which he alludes is probably best known by the name of the Cowical Stove, and has his name on the front. This stove was introduced into market in its present shape in the Spring of 1835, and about 1500 to 2000 sold. They have generally given great satisfaction, and the subscriber has made such arrangements as will enable him to supply the market the coming season. And as he has been informed that there are persons in the vicinity of Boston, who have already commenced manufacturing them, and others are preparing to make the said stove, he deems it his duty to inform such persons, and the public generally, that prompt measures will be taken to prosecute all such infringements. He also intends having an agency in Boston, where the public can be supplied with said Conical Stove on liberal terms, at wholesale and retail.

JACOB SMITH.

About six months since I examined Mr Smith's Machine for purifying feathers, and being satisfied that it must produce the effect for which it was intended, I sent a bed to be purified, which had been dried and aired in the ordinary way, by an upholsterer, four times in four successive years, without any lasting effect. The process of Mr Smith's machine upon this bed has proved completely effectual. The bed continues to be in perfect order, and the bulk of the feathers is permanently increased 25 per cent.

CAUTION.—Notice is hereby given, that the patent granted to me for cleansing and dressing feathers, dated February 7, 1834, has been renewed with a more correct specifiruary 7, 1834, has been renewed with a more correct specification according to the act of Congress ir such case made and provided—and that this renewed patent is dated October 17th, 1835, and has been submitted to the examination of learned counsel who have prone unced it to be valid, and the invention well secured to the patentee. Now, therefore, this is to caution all persons against using without my license and consent, my invention, or any of the different modifications of it, with which some portions of the community have been deceived by designing men who prefer pillering to an honest livelihood, as I am determined to prosecute all infringements on my right, to the full extent and utmost rigor of the law.

GEORGE REYNOLDS, Patentee
East Hartford, April 15, 1836. THE PATENT FRICTIONLESS PUMPS. We wish to call the attention of the public generally to the valuable improvement lately made in pumps by Mr Whitfield, of 106 William street, New York, whose "Patent Frictionless Pumps" have been exhibited in operation for several days past. This is a very important invention, and it is the opinion of all the engineers in New York, as well as scientific men, that these pumps will supersede the use of every other pump, and for all purposes. They are well worthy the attention of ship owners, corporations, insurance companies, manufacturers, distillers, miners, bridge builders, as well as pump makers, and all persons to whom a good pump and a saving of expense and labor are of any importance. It is the latention of the patentee to dispose of exclusive rights for the different States—or he will dispose of the whole patent right.

MEMORANDA.—We, the undersigned, having practically examined the action of Mr Whitfield's Patent Frictionless Pump,

MEMORANDA.—We, the undersigned, having practically examined the action of Mr Whitfield's Patent Frictionless Pump, for the purpose of critically approving its powers as a hydraulic machine, to raise water without leakage or friction, there being only the weight of the fluid to lift, do not hesitate to express our unqualified approbation of the invention in all its parts, and we are of opinion, that the application of the primary. parts, and we are of opinion that the application of the principle of the patent frictionless pumps throughout the navy and mercantile service, must prove the happy medium of preserving the lives of numberless brave. ing the lives of numberless brave sailers, our fellow country-men, while at the same time it will ever be of the best practical value and importance in diminishing the burthen of the
